PLAIN AND FANCY BOOK AND JOB PRINTING D BILL-HEADS, VISITING, BUSINESS AND ADDRESS DS printed in the highest style of the art.

I do not mourn, sweet wife of mine, Because those ruby lips of thine-That marble brow-Were kissed by one who might have been, Had I not chanced to step between, Thy husband now.

I do not grieve because thy heart, Ere Cupid touched it with my dart, For him would beat Nor that the hand which owns my ring Once wore his gift, a " Mizpah" thing-It was but meet.

I sigh not that his arms were placed Some score of time around your waist, So sweet and slim. Ah no, my love! the woe you see Is mine because you wedded me

VARIETY.

Instead of him

CONTEMPTUOUSLY .- " Who was the first man?" asked a school-teacher of a little girl. She answered that she did not know. The question was put to the next, an Irish child, who answered loudly, "Adam, sir," with apparent satisfaction. "Law," said the first scholar, contemptuously, " you needn't feel so grand about it; he wasn't an Irishman!"

THE INFERENCE IS PLAIN .- When little Henry lugustus was reprimanded by his father for browing stones at another boy, and told that e might be hanged some day if he was not a better boy, the lad said he didn't care if he would be, "for then the papers would print my ortrait, and the girls would send me flowers in il, and I'd go to heaven, and that'd be bully.' The inference is plain that Henry Augustus reads the daily papers.

A Virginia City (Nev) justice is very confiential in his court-room. " Most men make ools of themselves when they marry," he remarked one morning. "Now, I call the turn when I got spliced. Do you know, boys, I don't is always nosin round and snatching a board Dry Goods, Clothing, Hats. Furnishing Goods, Ladies' and here and there, an' she's so down on Chinamen that she does all her own washing. All women ain't like her, though. Most of 'em want to put in ten hours a day in a rocking-chair. My old hen ain't had a new dress for three years."

EVIDENTLY NOT A WESLEYAN .- A traveller in the Western district was struck by the absence of the usual tessellated language of the bullock driver, in the case of a man on the road with a small team, which he thus apostrophized : "Come hither, Baptist! Wo-o-o! Presbyterian," etc. This mode of address seemed so strange to the raveller that he entered into conversation with man and asked him how these titles were applicable to a bullock team : "Well, sir you ee, I calls this the 'clesiastical team. You see hat bullock on the off side, leading; I call him Baptist. We'll be crossing the creek presently, and he'll be bound to take for water. That one on the near side, he's 'Piscopalian, 'cause he holds his head so weary high. That bullock on the off side of the pole, the one with crumpled horn, I calls him Presbyterian. He is the most out-and out knowing bullock of the lot. The rindle in the same yoke with him, he's Wesleyan. He's always a grunting and a groaning, as if he was dragging the whole load. Bless your life, sir, he's not pulling an ounce."

.. What kind of house will we play?" asked one little girl of another. "Oh, play calling," replied the other. "Mary, here, she can be Mrs. Brown, and sit on the step, and me and Julia will call on her and ask her how she is, and how her husband is, and if the bayb's got over the measles, and tell her how nice she looks in her new wrapper, and hope it won't hurt her much when she has that tooth filled. And then we'll say 'good-bye Mrs. Brown, come and see as some time or other, and bring the children and your sewing; and you're such a stranger, we don't see half enough of you." And then me and Julia we'll courtesy and walk off a piece, and I'll say to Julia, ' Did you ever see such a horrid old fright as she looks in that wrapper? and then Julia she'll say, 'The idea of anybody having false teeth filled !' And then I'll say, 'Yes, and what a homely lot of dirty little brats them young ones of her'n is.' Let's play it ; what do you say?"

Bangs sends us the following copy of a letter written by a Cambridge boy who is up in the country: "Billy, why don't you write me a letter? I am havin' a bully time but I have to go round on crotches, for a hoss rake fell off a hay mow on to me and spraint my legs. A boy from Charlestown named Hookey boards where I do, an me an him go round together and have a good time. We catch frogs down in a brook and throw em through the winders on to the table and scare the boarders when they eat; there aint no policemen here, and you bet 'tis fun to tie papers on to a hog and set em a fire and hear em squeal. Mr. Smith was awful mad about it. I was awful sick last week, and I have wore out four pairs of pants since I have been here. When I left home I forgot to let my rabbits out, and I wish you would get into my backyard and let em out but I guess they are dead now and if they are you may have em rabbits cant live three weeks without nothin to eat if they can they are tuff. I have got three turkies and a crow and a lot of things I shall bring home in my trunk if my mother don't find it out. My mother says I fret her to death, and says she never'l let me go into the country with her again. I cant write any more for me and some more fellers is goin down in the pasture and throw stones at calves. Hookey broke out a lot of glass in a school-house, and his mother

How to TELL A GENTLEMAN .- You should sistering himself from Texas, asked for a room and if breakfast was on the table. The Olympian clerk gazed at him scornfully for a moment and languidly remarked : "Any baggage?" " No," replied the guest.

"In that case," said the clerk, " the rules of the house compel me to insist on payment in advance." "Very well," said the guest, without hesita-tion or appearing offended, "take two days board out of this," and from a wad of green backs as big as his arm he produced a $100 "I beg your pardon," stammered the abashed clerk, "but we are so often taken in, and your face not being familar to me, I-

"No offence," cheerily answered the guest business is business and rules are rules. It does look a little odd to be travelling without a Greig & Bicknell's (Fanning's Island) Cocoanut Oil, baggage, but us cattle dealers ain't much on style, and-" "That's all right, Colonel," said the clerk. Put up your money; we know a gentleman when we see him. Jim, show the gentleman to 146. Call for the best in the house General." The old man stowed away an ample breakfast, got the clerk to give him small bills for a fifty, and asked where Billy Coolbaugh, the banker, had his office, inquired when they had dinner, desired the clerk to tell Mr. Farwell, if he called, and has not been seen since. The clerk subse-
